Parking is available in the new garage adjacent to the Cathedral.

Musicians

It is our pleasure to have

Susie Petrov

&

Paul Woodiel

Performing for

A Capital Ball

Susie Petrov has been playing for Scottish Country dancing since 1980. Her gigs have taken her to branches and groups across the US, Canada and to Europe. She has been playing with her band, Local Hero since 1988. In recent years, she has been fortunate to meet up with the new generation of fiddle camp graduates who enjoy playing for dancing. Susie is producing a new CD of music in strict tempo. The CD features several ensembles of her friends, playing full-length dances and sets that change tempo; useful for demonstrations and performances.

Leonard Bernstein described Paul Woodiel as "a first-class performer – one who combines spirituality with intellect". A busy New York-based purveyor of a broad range of violin and fiddle styles, he has been a featured recitalist at the 92nd St. Y, the Miller Theater at Columbia University, and the New York Festival of Song at Carnegie Hall, and has appeared as soloist at music festivals from Bard College in New York to the red rocks of Moab, Utah. A three-time New England Fiddle Contest champion, he is a widely celebrated exponent of traditional fiddle styles, and teaches traditional fiddle at Wesleyan University. Also in the traditional vein, he performs across the US and abroad with the Scottish dance band Local Hero.
